FAMOUS SPEAKERS AT SCI. BANQUET

Venetian Gardens Obtained for Popular Dinner

The Science Undergraduate dinner has at last been developed by the executive into what should be the most entertaining affair of its sort to be held during the year. The Venetian Gardens have been obtained for the evening's programme, special arrangement having been made to have McGill songs played by the orchestra. Songs have been printed on the back of the menu for the use of the unsophisticated freshman who has not as yet learned the words.

The menu is far above that which has been held in the past. The talented staff of entertainers at the Venetian will be on hand. The speakers for the evening have been obtained after much difficulty because of the constant demand on their time. Mr. Coverdale or Mr. Coletts, both well known to McGill men, will speak.

The faculty needs every man there in order to keep up the good standard already set throughout the year by its various teams. It is the only function of the year where one class is able to meet another and not be in actual battle with it in some form of competition. Every possible detail has been arranged by the executive to make the affair the most successful that has occurred this year. The old spirit will certainly be in true form at the Venetian Gardens at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

McGILL BEAT VARSITY AT WATER POLO

Secured Early Lead and Kept It Throughout

NO PENALTIES

Laisley Starred, Although Injured in Basketball

In an exciting and extremely fast game, the McGill Intercollegiate Polo team scored a clean-cut 2-0 victory over Varsity in the Central Y tank on Saturday night. Interest never lagged for a moment while the teams were in the water, the close checking and spectacular plays holding the attention of the spectators from start to finish. McGill gained an early lead in the first period when Fisk scored after one and a half minutes of play, and Ross two minutes later. Varsity were unable to score throughout the entire game due to the faultless playing of Laisley in the nets, who deserves special mention; for although injured in the basketball game during the afternoon he donned his outfit and took up his position in goal. He displayed exceptional ability to hard shots from close in, when Varsity men leapt directly in front of the nets and also showed good judgment the time or two he swam out to secure a loose ball. "Bill" played the entire game although Graham-Brown was on hand to fill in if needs be. A feature of the game was the close checking by both forwards and defence men of the two teams, and as a result only on odd occasions were players able to break away on lone rushes. Although he was the smallest and lightest man in the tank, Laidley played a most brilliant defensive game.

Times without number his opponent would prepare to receive a pass, but as soon as he laid hands on the ball Laidley would leap on his back and render him helpless no matter how hard he fought. Much admiration was expressed of his play when he was forced out. (Continued on Page 2.)

M.A.A.A. TIE GAME WITH McGILL MEN

McGill Now Heads the Intermediate League

SURPRISING GAME

Exciting Scramble in the Last Period

Yesterday afternoon the Intermediate team played the M.A.A.A. at the Victoria rink. Though the McGill men played a very much better brand of hockey than the "winged-wheelers" the game resulted in a 1-1 draw.

The game started off at a rapid pace but for some minutes there was no score. Sid Davis made a pretty rush down the ice and shot. The M.A.A.A. goalie stopped the shot but Frederick connected with the rebound and snapped it in. Shortly before the end of the first period Wieland brought the puck down to the McGill end. Moran caught it and before he could drop it he was mixed up with most of the men on the ice. Moran's wrist was injured but he was able to go on with the game.

Soon after the opening of the second period Jack Goddard had a nasty fall and had to be carried off the ice. He was replaced by McLean but after a few minutes he returned to the game. Willard of the M.A.A.A. made a pretty rush but failed to score. Just before the end of the period Payne succeeded in getting a goal, thus tying the score.

The third period was void of interest with the exception of one incident. The McGill men got the puck right down in front of their opponents' net. A great old scramble ensued during which the puck got into the net. The goal judge put up his hand but the referees declared that the puck had been punched in and no score was counted. No one else scored and the game ended as a tie.

The line-up was as follows:

McGill	Goal	M.A.A.A.
Moran	Defence	James
Goddard	Defence	Sheppard
Davis	Defence	Wieland
Frederick	Wings	Dickson
MacNaughton	Centre	Houck

C.O.T.C. HOLDS MIMIC BATTLES

Trip to Shawbridge Full of Interesting Incidents

A small party of the McGill Contingent, C.O.T.C., commanded by Lieut. Col. R. R. Thompson, M.C., proceeded to the Boys' Farm, Shawbridge, over the week-end. The object of this excursion was, as of the previous one, to gain practice in the gentle art of minor tactics of which so much had been heard from the various officers of M.D. and of the unit itself. This object was attained in that four of the senior N.C.O.'s were given opportunity to command sides in various tactical schemes which were held. A great deal of fun flew in the discussions which were held after each of these schemes. Far more tactics were learned in these discussions, and many a move of each side which happened to turn out favorably was of course carefully planned out beforehand.

An innovation on this trip was the use of the Lewis gun. All ranks had the opportunity of firing the gun, an experience which was novel to most. The marksmanship was on the whole considerably better than was expected by the men themselves. The cause of quite a bit of friendly discussion was a nail keg on the side of a hill at which the officers each shot two bursts of five rounds. The few shots which were on were of course claimed by each concerned.

Apart from the business of the trip the skiing was excellent except for Sunday afternoon, although there were several heaps of prostrate skiers at the bottoms of the gullies.

The accommodation offered by the Boys' Farm was of the best, as it always is, and Mr. Harding, the cook, can get a reference from any one of the party.

Mr. Barss and the staff of the Boys' Farm are to be congratulated on the wonderful work they are doing among the boys. It is generally considered that these boys are unmanageable, but although they are somewhat full of beans I think that all those present will agree with me that a better bunch of kids are not to be found, and at hand-to-hand scrapping, when taken two or three at a time, are found hard to get rid of.

The staff of the Farm are to be thanked heartily for a very pleasant week-end.

SIR HARRY'S ADVICE

"My message to students," said Sir Harry Lauder in an interview at the University of Kansas, "is, if you are in the university for an education, for some job, or profession, through ability as a student get a job that you like. If you are in a job that you don't like, get out of it. Never think of the dollars or what you can do to bring in the dollars. Think of what you can do to make yourself happy."

"You want to do anything big without a big mind to do it. It takes a lifetime to make character, you know and a lifetime to establish a reputation."

"You are great lasses, you American 'lasses," Sir Henry Lauder said when questioned upon his impression of the American girls. "But most of you are having real good times."

"Most of you go to the University and mess away your time and are putting a greater responsibility on your fathers and mothers who are sacrificing for your education."

"I believe in a certain amount of social intercourse, but also in taking degrees in the shortest time possible. In England we have what we call the 'grinder.' He is one who is first class mentally but in third class socially."

McGILL TEAM WINS IN LAST FEW SECONDS

Fast, Short Passing Wins Game

38-37

McGill Leads Inter-Collegiate League

With but twenty seconds to play and Laisley off the floor the senior team in the midst of a frenzied mob of rooters kept at a combination game and with out a single wild shot at the basket worked the ball by clever passing through the Blue defence so a sure victory. It was a game of team work throughout. Time after time the red jersey tore through the Toronto defence and added two more points on to the score. Time after time Toronto swept back only to meet a five man defence. George Fox's delegation stuck to a short fast passing game while the Blue and White used long passes and took long shots. The score was only kept close by the brilliant work of Bell of the Toronto team who did the foul shooting. He gave his team 23 of their points of which three were baskets from the floor and 17 points were on free tries.

With but two minutes to play Laisley was injured and had to leave the game. Toronto was at this point three points ahead. Hay went in centre and Manson forward. Manson then got two points on a double foul. Then on the jump Hay got the ball and passed it. The forward line worked it through the defence and Manson rolled in the desired points. Fifteen seconds and McGill was the winner by a score of 38 to 37.

The first score of the game was made when Bell of Varsity dropped the ball in on a fire try. A minute later Laisley tallied a pass from Crain which gave McGill its first score. Setting a terrific pace the forward line passed through the Blue and White defence and again (continued on Page 3.)

NEW PARTY TO DECIDE BIG ISSUE

Revolutionary Party Has Important Legislation

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Humor to Be Instilled Into Proceedings of Parliament

One of the big remaining attractions for the second term busy season will be the meeting of the Mock Parliament next Wednesday night at 8.15 in the Union.

The Revolutionary party which came into power after the last session, have a substantial lot of proposed legislation. Their platform as formerly published will be strictly adhered to. What cannot be brought about by direct legislation will be accomplished by indirect methods. While one of the objects of the new party is to add a little mirth to the heretofore lifeless sittings of the House they have done a great deal of work on some very important needs of the day.

The most important question which they will endeavor to solve is that of unemployment. During the last year, specially during the winter months, the large number of out-of-workers has been a matter of great concern to those who steer the ship of state. The old adage regarding new brooms may again be demonstrated by the new party. They suggest that if work cannot be found for all there must be a provision made to supply the destitute with the absolute necessities of life. The importance of the question to the whole state is such that any possible solution will undoubtedly receive a large measure of support.

The speaker will be Mr. R. L. Calder, K.C., who has occupied the speaker's throne under the now deceased Progressive regime. Mr. Arthur Terroux will continue his duties as clerk of the House.

The retiring prime minister has not signified his chosen successor nor have the Revolutionary party made any statement as to their new leader. A statement will no doubt be issued in the very near future.

German marks are low.
So are some of my others.

MONTREAL, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1922.

A BUSY WEEK-END.

One of the busiest possible week-ends has come and gone and now that the smoke of battle has quite blown away we may sit back and take count of our wins and losses. Although we have more defeats than victories to report, three as against two, yet we have suffered no loss of honour in the process. In all the events both sides fought hard and only the narrowest of margins carried victory to the winners. In hockey the play was much closer than the six to four score indicates, while McGill's win in basketball was only a hair's breadth away from a loss. The swimming was lost by a few inches and the Assault-at-Arms, while giving Varsity a lead of two points, was only won by very close decisions in the deciding bouts. The water-polo team, though it had a clear-cut victory, had to work hard all through the game and was never out of danger.

Our heartiest congratulations go out to all the winners—and all the losers as well. The standard of sportsmanship displayed in every contest was of the highest and a credit to even the usually clean intercollegiate athletics to the history of which another hon-page was added.

ECONOMY AMONG STUDENTS.

The world loves a cheerful giver. When drives come along, we reverence the magnificent person who rises to pledge extravagantly; we have a warm feeling in our hearts toward the jolly individual who sweeps all of the soda checks into his hand and says, "Never mind, this is my treat." We admire good clothes, and though we speak in a friendly and democratic way to sweaters, we form our friends among fur-coats, if possible. If we attend all the good theatrical performances, musical and student and athletic events, entertain royally at dinners, and never turn away a friend to ask for a loan, we glow with conviviality and we have a large following among the student body.

The question is, is it our own money that we are so lavish with? Billionaires' sons and daughters have a right to scatter their dollars, but often an examination of facts will show that the young croesus of the school is being supported by the fruits of a boot-blackening establishment at home, whereas the plain clothes man may have a background of yachts and ancestral banquet halls. If one makes his own money, it is his to spend until he runs through it, but when Father is clerking at the bank until all hours of the night, Mother is taking in roomers, and the children are wearing their old shoes and patched rompers to "send our boy to college," the student should remember that if he is a spend-thrift under such conditions, he is a merciless extortioner.

Rich or poor, economy is a laudable practice under any circumstances; it is a fortune founder and a character builder, and for a college student, is valuable training for the world of hard knocks which he enters from the happy haphazard freedom of the campus. —"Daily Illini."

It is to be hoped that the next time a McGill hockey team is playing at the Arena there will be more space reserved for the men students than was kept at the Varsity game last Friday. Very little more than two rows of seats were available for the accommodation of all those enthusiastic rooters who crowded to see the game, a ridiculously insufficient number. Surely, if a little effort was made more accommodation could be secured from the management. The most certain way to kill the students' interest is to give them inconvenient quarters or cause them to wait an hour or more in order to obtain a good seat.

MACDONALD BEATS ARTS HOCKEY TEAM

Bailey Stars in Three Lone Rushes

In a fast game of hockey MacDonald beat Arts down to defeat last Saturday. The game was played at MacDonald. Layhew of Arts was the first to score. The forward line went through the defence and on a short pass Layhew drove the puck into the nets. After this the defence tightened on both sides few men getting near the nets. Bailey of MacDonald then came down the ice and scored. In the second period he made two more lone rushes fooling the defence and shooting for a point. Harris gave a clever exhibition of stickhandling and tore through the entire MacDonald team for a goal. It was the prettiest play of the game. The Arts defence had to hold back some clever combination work which the home team showed. Bailey was the individual star of the game scoring all of MacDonald's points on lone rushes.

The line-up was as follows:—

MacDonald	Arts.
Goal
Richardson	Amaron
Bailey	Defence
Welsch	Moore
Buchanan	Hutcheson

CORRESPONDENCE

The Editor "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir:—

It was with a sense of keen interest that I read the letter of Mr. Current which appeared in this morning's issue. "Internationalist" finds therein the much desired assurance of support and he is now ready to take steps towards organizations.

I am quite confident that the as yet unknown Internationalist Club will someday occupy a central position in University life. Its possibilities are great; its aims shall be high; its activities must be many.

Students who are desirous of renting in shreds the "Made in Hades" cloak of "False patriotism," students who insist that character, not colour, race, or creed should give to each individual his or her in the principle of a universal fraternity will be welcomed to the organization meeting which will be held in the near future.

Watch the Daily for notices
Sincerely,
R. E. Brown.

Fisk and Ross also showed much promptness in nailing their men only releasing them when they had dropped the ball or after the whistle had sounded. For Toronto it would be difficult to single out any one man, since the whole team travelled at top speed. Bell in goal played a cool game and the two goals whirled past him were genuine counters and even with a flock of horse-shoes in the net he could not have stopped them. Wood the Varsity captain, and Waldron were probably the hardest workers, while Reilly was always dangerous near the McGill nets and came very near scoring on several occasions. Varsity lost in substitutes seven or eight times. McGill's once (Vickerson for Laidley.) This can be accounted for, because they have no shallow end in their own tank and being so used to frequent substituting, pursued the same course here. Good feeling prevailed among the members of the two teams and no penalties were handed out, while but three times were men sent back to their goal-line for minor offences.

Details of the play were as follows: Varsity won the toss and chose to defend the deep end first, and after a minute's warming up Referee Moore threw them out for the game. Directly the whistle went, the tank looked as stormy as the Atlantic Ocean, when Ross and Wood swam a dead heat for the ball. It came up however behind the Toronto man who passed to his right wing. Reilly who accepted it, swam down the side until tackled then tested Laidley with a shot which he easily cleared. Almost immediately however the ball was returned to the McGill end and four men engaged in a lively tussle a couple of yards out. During the excitement the ball broke loose and was left floating between the two pairs of men, and Laidley probably averted a score by coming out and clearing. After the ball had changed hands several times Parsons was fouled and awarded a free throw. He passed to Fisk, who without hesitation, let drive with one of his famous speedy back-hand shots which landed neatly in the corner of the Toronto net. McGill 1, Varsity 0. McGill secured the ball at the face-off, and Fisk took a long shot which Bell saved. Play then returned to the shallow end and some neat work was pulled off by Anson and Laidley, who each nailed a Varsity forward several times in quick succession. The two Toronto men passed from one to the other, close to the McGill net in hope one would be able to break away. The defence men did not leave them uncovered long enough to shoot however, and Anson finally swam up the tank and shot accurately for the goal, but Bell was on the job and blocked it. Laidley stopped a drive from one of the Varsity forwards and then passed up to Parsons who was closely watched by Conklin. These two then engaged in an exciting race down the side of the tank but managed to head off his man who shot hard for the goal. Laidley saved well and a long pass up the tank left the ball floating between the Toronto goalie and his defence. Jim Ross broke through with a burst of speed, but just as he got in position to shoot, was hemmed in by the defence men who spoiled a sure goal. Fisk who was backing him up then shot, but the ball hit the cross-bar and bounced high over the top. Bell made a frantic leap for it but had it been a couple of inches lower, he would not have had a chance. Play again reverted to the McGill end and both Anson and Laidley were again prominent in sticking like leeches to their men.

In the scrimmage, the ball was once more left drifting and when Laidley dashed out to clear, a Varsity man flipped it over his shoulder into the net. The play was recalled however since he stood on bottom to shoot, and the rule is that a player must be swimming to score. The Toronto men seemed at a disadvantage since their own tank ranges from eight to five feet, while the Y. M. is eight to three feet, making a difference of two feet in the shallow end. Jim Ross who was waiting uncovered well up in the deep end, then received a pass from Fisk and streaking in, he slammed a shot into the top-corner of the net. Bell had no opportunity whatever to block it. In the face-off another dead heat resulted but Parsons shot, grabbed the ball but shot high over the net. Checking was very close at this point, and Waldron held Fisk securely. A scrimmage resulted in front of the McGill goal but the ball was cleared. Parsons and Conklin again pulled off their periodical race down the side but the Varsity man shot wide as the pistol was fired for them to change ends. Wells came on for Toronto while for McGill Laidley played forward and Parsons dropped back to the defence. Varsity gained possession and Laidley saved a hard shot from Reilly. Wood then sent in a hard drive which hit the post and rebounded. The Toronto men were trying hard to even up matters while McGill was in the deep end. Reilly was in good position to shoot but Parsons hopped on him till he let go of the ball. Reilly's hat was rammed over his head in the procedure. The hard checking continued, since to let a man break away, meant a sure goal. Harston of Varsity came on for Wells. Fisk shot over the net when checked by Waldron. Being again tackled by him, Fisk submerged and rising quickly shot viciously, and missed a goal by inches when Bell had no time to move.

Jim Ross did some effective checking at centre, sinking the men as fast as they received the ball. He watched Wood, the speedy Varsity man especially, and in one encounter Wood's bathing suit was ripped. Reilly then took a pass but a yard or so from the McGill goal and Laidley made a spectacular save, giving a corner throw. He immediately stopped another of Reilly's who was closely watched by Parsons. Ross was also clinging to his man like a shadow.

PEPYS AT McGill

Sunday, Feb. 19th. (Lord's Day) Up a little later than is my wont, my mind being still all of a whorl from my scurrying hither and thither all yesterday to attend at the several athletic contests that our fellows did put up with the Puritains out of Toronto, and I sooth there was never seen such a confusion of events, it being in all ways beyond the natural parts of man to show his face at all of them, for which cause there be many about these colleges who deem it a fair thing that a Committee of Dates and Fixtures be established among us by the Students' Guild. After rising I up upon the mountain-top, there to observe in secret the proper manner of coursing upon skis, and a very simple and childish thing it did appear to me, so that I am quite resolved to show my prowess in this art as soon as I may find in proper so to do, being careful to chuse out for the time of my skeing the hours of some discourse which I most abominate. This is the first occasion on which I have walked upon the mountain of a Lord's day, and truly I am at loss to decide whether it be not in all things better to breathe deeply of the freshe aire than to sit cooped like so many fowles bound for market, in some place of worship, but this is a most weighty matter to decide, and not rashly to be undertaken either way. This evening I did not go to eat of my favourite dish of pork-flesh mingled with beans, and the reason being that my purse is nigh empty, which thing does not at all become a baronet.

I fear said the postage stamp on the student's letter to his father, that I am not sticking to facts.

PHILOSOPHICAL CLUB TO HEAR PROF. SMITH

The third meeting of the Philosophical Society for this session will be held to-night in the reading room of Strathcona Hall when Prof. H. A. Smith of the Law Faculty will give an address on "The Practice of Democracy in Canada and the United States." This subject, which is a part of political philosophy should appeal specially to Canadians and will be very ably dealt with when coming from Prof. Smith. The executive has attempted to provide some variety in subject for its members and this one to-night is quite different from last one. It will be very interesting to anyone who has studied political science. The time is 8.15, place Strathcona Hall and everybody is welcome.

Statisticians have evolved two ways and means of enabling a young gentleman to establish himself in the good graces of a girl. One is by spending money on her. So is the other.

Anson blocked a shot and a Varsity man shot over the bar on the rebound. Walldron clung to Fish who let go of the ball and then jumped on Wood who received it. Walldron shot wildly down the tank. The period ended with Laidley swimming the ball at the Toronto end. Half time—McGill 2, Varsity 0.

Second Half. The ball was faced off and by some very neat passing, Varsity brought the play down to the McGill end where Wood was securely held by Laidley. Ross then took a slam at the goal from three quarters down the tank. Bell cleared and Conklin and Parsons again took off their race down the side for old times sake, but Reilly shot wide on the pass. Parsons then swam in and Bell made a beautiful save by flipping the ball over the top. Parsons took the corner throw and passed to Ross, who threw it back but Parsons was covered by Reilly and trying a left hand shot could only put it weakly past the net. The game was very fast in the 25 period and some snappy checking took place, Ross and Laidley showing up to advantage in this respect. Laishley cleared well on a shot from close in and Bell also made a neat save of Fisk's drive. Parsons dashed in and just missed the rebound and had hard luck immediately after when he missed a close one. A scrimmage took place in front of the McGill net and a Varsity man who was held under, broke loose and coming up suddenly, shot hard. Laishley however was ready for him and handled the ball cleanly. Fisk then took the ball up and shot for the corner. Bell only saved it by throwing himself across the goal mouth. Wood then threatened the McGill goal but Laidley nailed him in his tracks till the whistle sounded. Ross then broke away followed by two Varsity men, one of whom reached out and dragged him down by the foot while the other draped himself gracefully around his neck, thus spoiling another sure goal. Laidley was forced out by a cramp when three-quarter time sounded, after play for one of the most brilliant defensive games seen for a long time despite his lack of weight. Vickerson started the final quarter in his place, with McGill in the deep end. Varsity then began their final attack, Laishley saved an awkward shot but was forced to give a corner. Fisk then swam down but shot wild when held. He then raced backward and forwards beside the Toronto nets with Walldron and finally breaking loose, gave Bell a hard shot which he saved. Parsons deflected one from Wood, who was replaced by Wells. Bell saved on Fisk's hard slam, who received again but shot wide when held. Four men took part in a scramble for the ball at centre and Laishley jumped out to pull down a high shot headed into the net. Fitzgerald of Varsity then came on for Harston. Wells missed the McGill net by inches. Fisk again broke loose and his fast drive just scraped the top of the goal. Reilly shot weakly when covered. After some very good passing, Fisk shot across the goal-mouth just as full time was announced. Final score—McGill 2, Varsity 0.

The game was ably handled by George Moore and Albert Farmer and none of their decisions were questioned.

JUNIORS WON LEAGUE GAME BY 4-1 SCORE

Nationals Defeated on Saturday Afternoon.

GAMMELL STARRED

Clever Combination Gives Juniors Victory

The McGill Juniors defeated the strong National team at the Mount Royal arena on Saturday afternoon by a score of 4 to 1, thus moving one step nearer the championship. It was an interesting game all the way through. The play was fast, especially at the beginning of each period, and was very clean, no penalties being handed out. Under Shag's watchful eye, the McGill men showed good form. Although two scores were made on sole rushes they used combination plays for the most part. Their shooting was good, and McGill in the nets played an excellent game, stopping some hard shots.

In the first of the two twenty minute periods the Juniors started off with a rush, Gammell working Boo Anderson's stunt of stickhandling up the ice from the face-off for a shot, which was in this case neatly stopped by Gervais. The play was fast for the next few minutes, the puck being rushed from end to end repeatedly. Dion shot from directly in front of the McGill goal, caught the rebound from McGill's stick and shot again but failed to score. The McGill forwards were soon away again and Galley scored the first goal on a combination play with Abbott. After this the game slowed down somewhat. Nationals had the puck a good part of the time but devoted themselves to long shots which were easily turned aside by McGill. The Red and White forward line was relieved for a short time. Nationals sent three men up the ice and Desmarceaux scored their only goal.

The Juniors again forced the pace in the second period and Gammell sent a hot one past the Nationals' goalie after about a minute of play. Joslin made it three to one before long and finally Gammell put in the last counter after an individual rush. The Juniors did not let up at this however and kept the puck at the "Canadians' end of the rink, narrowly missing one or two chances of increasing their lead.

FROZEN FRESHETTES?

"Gee it's great!"
"Oh, boy!"

Splash, splash, and then a shriek.

These were the sounds that issued from behind the Anchorage Sunday about noon. Anyone passing and chancing to glance toward the millrace might have questioned his sanity and asked himself if it were not the middle of July despite the falling snowflakes, for there poised on the spring board stood a girl in a bright red bathing suit and red cap. Without a moment's hesitation she dived in, came up smiling, swam to shore and climbed out for another dive. On investigation it was found that two Hendricks hall frosh were taking a dip in the race. Of course, it was a bet; for two sane people even though they were frosh would not go swimming in the millrace on the 29th of January with two inches of snow on the ground, for fun.

"It was great," one of them was heard to exclaim as she climbed out after the last dive, "I'd do it again tomorrow." But it was noticed that the peace and quiet of the millrace was not disturbed yesterday by feminine swimmers. Perhaps the fact that the weather was a little warmer scared them out. dived" (C) (C) (C)

ASSAULT AT ARMS GAINED BY VARSITY

All Decisions Close and Bouts Hard Fought

POINTS 9—7—1

McGill Won 4 Wrestling, 2 Boxing and 1 Fencing

It appeared that McGill had a fifty-fifty chance to carry off the honors in the B.V. & F. finals in Hart House Saturday night as there were thirteen McGill contestants against fourteen from Toronto and five Queen's men. However, Varsity came through by a small margin, winning five boxing and four wrestling events, while Andrews, Matthews, Cohen and Armstrong won their wrestling bouts. Foss defeated his opponent, Grotz, of Toronto, and Brewer beat Roberts of Queen's in an extra round. Cresthal defeated Hewitt in the only fencing bout on the card. Holmes of Queen's out-pointed Fullerton. Thus U. of T. had nine bouts to their credit against McGill's seven and Queen's one. The finals attracted a crowd of six hundred spectators, mostly U. of T. supporters, to the Toronto students centre.

In the first event, 110-lb. wrestling, Andrews of McGill secured two falls in six minutes from Towner of Toronto.

In 118-lb. wrestling, McPhee, Toronto, won from Harvey of Queen's.

In 110-lb. boxing Schleifer put up a good scrap against the Blue and White entrant, Hewitt, but lost on points.

Holmes of Queen's outpointed Fullerton in the 118-lb. boxing event.

In the fifth event, 125-lb. wrestling, Matthews secured a fall in handy fashion from Cooper of Toronto.

In 135-lb. wrestling Adams of Toronto beat McIlquham, a Queen's man.

The only fencing bout came on next. Cresthal won from Hewitt, a former Intercollegiate champion.

In 125-lb. boxing Schemnitz of Toronto defeated Howard of Queen's.

Shackell, McGill's heavy-hitting standby, put up a brilliant fight against Grey, who has been knocking them out time and again. Neither was able to gain any decided advantage in three rounds of hard fighting. In the extra period Grey won by a knockout.

In the tenth event Cohen, wrestling at 145 lbs., threw his opponent, Torrance, of Varsity, with a clancery after 3 minutes 15 seconds. The Toronto man fell heavily on his head and was unable to continue.

Armstrong won a clean-cut victory over Farnsworth, making the fourth consecutive win for the McGill wrestlers.

In the feature bout of the evening, 145 lb. boxing between Brewer and Roberts of Queen's, the McGill man tore into his opponent at a terrific pace, but an extra round was called for. In this Brewer secured a decision.

Black of Varsity won from Abonovich in a good exhibition of boxing. In the fourteenth event, 175-lb. wrestling, Rumpie lost the decision to the Blue and White contestant, Sands, in a bout devoid of aggressive work.

McKeen was thrown by Mahaffy, Varsity, with a body scissors. The backbone of the McGill club put up a wonderful scrap, meeting the first reverse of a brilliant mat career.

In 175-lb. boxing Goldie outpointed Conner of McGill.

Foss, the McGill heavyweight, who has not been long in the boxing game, won a splendid victory from Grotz.

DENTS LOST GAME TO SCI. ALL-STARS

Play Was Fast and Clean Throughout

Science proved to be the 3-2 winners over Dentistry in a fast and exciting game of hockey played on the Campus rink Saturday afternoon.

Science seemed to be in better form all through the game but nevertheless, they had to work hard for their victory, and at no time was the issue of the game an absolute certainty.

The first goal was scored after ten minutes of play by Legge on a pass from Orr. Some swift rushes and pretty combination work marked the rest of the period and a minute before the half-time whistle McLaren, the Science right wing, shot the puck into the Dentistry nets, evening the score to one goal each.

During the first period Cool was accidentally cut with a skate, the only injury of a remarkably clean game. The Dent goal-keeper was kept busy in the second half and stopped many a hard shot though Rutherford and Crepeau each got one past him. Orr scored Dentistry's second and last goal. Final score, 3-2.

H. Anison refereed the match.

MCGILL MEN IN QUE. SKI MEET

Championship Goes to Two Quebec Ski-ers

The mountain side by the Montreal Ski Club's jumps was thickly crowded with hundreds of spectators on Saturday afternoon when the Quebec Province Ski Championships were held. Competitors representing the best known ski clubs of eastern Canada and the States gave one of the best demonstrations of ski-ing ever done in Montreal for some time. At this meet McGill had her athletes. Among them were Leslie, Whittall, Gravel, Glen and Smith, who made a good showing for their Alma Mater, and whose distinction in the carnival to be staged this week-end is looked for.

The entry list was the largest recorded for many years and included a greater number of clubs than ever before. An unusual feature among the entries was the appearance of two skiers of the Norseland Ski Club of New York, both of whom have excellent reputations as jumpers and were regarded as being among the finest competitors. Johnny Carlton of the Dartmouth Outing Club was present. This noted collegian from the New Hampshire college will also compete in the McGill Carnival, giving, it is expected, a sample of his daring stunts on skis.

Among the Canadian organizations entered were the Montreal Ski Club, McGill Ski Club, Mount Royal Ski Club, Cliffside Ski Club of Ottawa, and Nansen Ski Club of Berlin, N.H.

The distances made Saturday were not record-breaking owing to the poor weather conditions, although some of the prettiest jumps were displayed by the youthful amateurs. Ninety-seven feet was the longest jump. Berge and Bardon, both of Quebec city, tied for first place with a total of 9.61 points.

A dinner was held by the home club in their club house on Mount Royal at which were assembled the numerous competitors and assistants of the afternoon's events.

Laishley scored. Mendelsohn was at the end of the next combination and shot the first of six dead shots into the iron ring. Gill was able to get through and give Toronto two more points. Manson came to the front and scored two free tries and a basket. Stewart off for Varsity and Smith on. Smith scored. Mendelsohn then got another. Gill and Bell gave four more points to the Blue.

The period closed Bell having scored eight free tries Manson four but McGill leading 22 to 16.

Smith of Varsity started the second period and before it was over put four into the net. Bell never missing on free tries the score became close. Laishley was injured when two men fell on the fast floor and had to be taken out. Turpell on. Toronto began to pile up a lead. The forward line worked the ball up and Mendelsohn scored. Crain came up the floor and scored. Bell and Smith gave Toronto four points on long shots. Bell kept placing free tries in. Crain again scored in a fast bit of play. Laishley came back and McGill began to even up the score.

Laishley scored, and Crain once more put the ball in. Manson scored and then Laishley was injured again. With two minutes to play and Toronto three points ahead Ces Hay went on. Manson scored two points on free tries. Bell missed. Hay got the ball on the take off and in a series of passes Manson got the ball. He shot and scored. Fifteen seconds to go and Toronto unable to get through Livshin and Crain, was defeated by one point.

The fast working forward line undoubtedly was what carried McGill through the last few minutes to victory. Crain and Livshin at the same time held the visitors well down on their basket scores and but for the deadly shooting of Bell on free tries the game would have been an easy victory. Time after time the Blue and White came down the floor but were unable to get twitwin shooting range of the basket. Livshin was the cause of many a sure basket going wild. Crain covered back during the entire game until the 1st period when three times he scored on pretty series of passes. Manson in center played a brainy game. Passing always and scoring a good percentage of free tries. Hay went in center for the last few minutes giving the ball the start up the floor for the winning points. Mendelsohn was the leading scorer in the game shooting six baskets. Laishley gave an exhibition of fast passing and shooting. In fact he was all over the floor playing with the forward line and scoring but always back on the defence to spoil the combination of the Blue and White. Twice he was injured the first time when two men fell on the slippery floor, and after returning to the game again in a mix-up in the last two minutes of play. Later in the day he was a factor in sending the Toronto water team home scoreless.

For Toronto Bell piled up an overwhelming number of free tries. And in the final rush nearly was able to get the game by a beautiful shot from one side of the floor. Smith who did not go in till the middle of the first period gave Toronto ten of their points. Gill scored two baskets.

Toronto for the most part used a long passing game while McGill used a short passing.

The line-up was as follows:

EXAM RULES

1. Never bother to have the exam questions typed beforehand—most students enjoy deciphering a whole blackboard of your writing.

2. Never give a choice of two questions—some students might be dishonest enough to answer both of them.

3. Always put the detail questions first and the long "thought" ones at the end—every student can think so much better after he has been writing an hour or two.

4. If you get tired waiting for the last ones to finish, close all the windows violently and start pacing up and down the room—they'll hurry.

5. If your grades are too high, change a few 1's to 5's—it may give some people a novel experience.

6. If your grades are too low—never mind, you're only being a conscientious professor.—Arizona Wildcat.

McGILL GRADUATE MARRIES POPULAR MOVIE ACTRESS

Dr. C. A. Rutherford and Pauline Frederick Married February 4th—Death of Col. C. F. Taylor in India on January 25th—Dr. Gilbert Hartin Died at Nelson, B.C.—Dr. Edward Du Vernet Honored by Digby, N.S.—Other News of Prominent McGill Graduates.

Announcement is made of the marriage at Santa Ana, Cal., the Gretna Green of Hollywood, on February 4 of Dr. Charles Alton Rutherford, Med. '01, of Seattle, Wash., and Beatrice Libby, otherwise known as Pauline Frederick, noted actress and film star. The ceremony was quietly performed by Rev. Dr. O'Prer, of the Christian church of Santa Ana with Louise Dresser, another actress, and her husband, Jack Gardner, as the witnesses.

This is Miss Frederick's third marriage. Her first husband was Frank Andrews, an architect, and her second was Willard Mack, actor and playwright. After a stormy two years Miss Frederick divorced Mack who was himself married for the fourth time just a few weeks ago.

The Frederick-Rutherford romance is said to be one of long standing. Born in Boston, Miss Frederick passed her summers as a girl on her grandfather's farm near Madrid, N. Y., seven miles from the Rutherford homestead. This continued until she was 14 or 15 years of age and since then she and Dr. Rutherford (who is her second cousin) have seen little of each other. Miss Frederick became famous on the stage and on the screen, while Dr. Rutherford has been most successful as a practitioner in Seattle. It is announced that there will be no change in the professional plans of the bride. She will fulfill her contract with Robertson-Cole and it is thought that Dr. Rutherford will transfer his practice to Hollywood. The honeymoon will be postponed until after the star completes her present picture, "The Glory of Clementina." The day after the wedding she resumed work in the studio.

Dr. Rutherford is a son of the late Robert Rutherford, a farmer near Waddington, N. Y., and he attended the Ogdensburg Free Academy in his earlier days, later graduating in Medicine at McGill. For a short time he practiced at Waddington and then moved to Seattle. In the Church of St. Peter, Hamilton, Ont., on February 5, a bronze tablet in memory of John Charles Waller, past student with Arts '17, was unveiled. The inscription on the tablet reads: "In loving memory of John Charles Waller, Canadian 4th Battalion, killed in action at Vimy Ridge, May 3, 1917, while trying to get his men under cover before looking after himself. Alive for evermore."

At 21 Springfield avenue, Montreal, on February 3, a son was born to Robertson W. Gibb, Arts '06, Law '09, and Mrs. Gibb.

The cables carry news of the death in India on January 25 of Colonel Edward Thornton Taylor, Arts '78, late of the Cheshire Regiment, an officer who saw distinguished service with the British army during a long period. Col. Taylor was the second son of the late Thomas M. Taylor, stockbroker, Montreal, in which city he was born in 1838. Educated at the Montreal High School, at McGill and at the Royal Military College, Kingston, from which he was graduated in 1882 he was gazetted a lieutenant in the Cheshire regiment in the same year, became a captain in 1887, major in 1899 and lieutenant-colonel on half-pay in 1905. In 1896 he was appointed deputy assistant adjutant-general in India for instruction and again held the same post later. From 1905 to 1909 he was commandant of the Royal Military College of Canada, the first native Canadian to have held that position. In 1907 he was appointed a member of the General Staff on the Empire. In 1915 Col. Taylor was a member of the Canadian team that played the Harvard University football club. Mrs. Taylor was formerly Miss Alice Madeline Campbell, daughter of the late Col. John T. Campbell, formerly commanding the Royal Canadian Rifles.

Dr. George E. Hodge, Med. '15, has left for Philadelphia to take a post graduate course in diseases of the eye, nose and throat.

Dr. J. C. Meakins, Med. '04, who is now professor of clinical medicine at Edinburgh University, has returned from Peru where he was a member of the Anglo-American expedition engaged in testing the effect of the Andean altitudes upon the heart and other organs.

At Almonte, Ont., on February 1 a daughter was born to Dr. J. F. Dunn, Med. '04, and Mrs. Dunn.

At Nelson B.C., on February 3, Dr. Gilbert Martin, Med. '06, passed away of cancer at the age of 63. A native of Stittsville, Ont., he established himself in practice at Kaslo, B.C., in 1896 and moved to Nelson in 1907. Dr. Martin is survived by his wife, formerly Miss H. Bella Torney, of Richmond, Ont., and by two sons, one of whom is Dr. David Martin, Med. '14.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCullum, St. Lambert, Que., on February 7, the marriage took place of their daughter Bertha Marian, and Dr. E. Clifford Brown, Med. '18 of Burgettstown, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brown, of Montreal.

Rev. T. Anson Halpenny, Arts '05, lately of Toronto, has accepted the post of principal of the St. Andrew, Que., Wesleyan College. He is at present travelling secretary of the Ontario Sunday School association and will assume his new duties at the close of the present session.

Dr. F. J. Shepherd, Med. '73, has been re-elected president of the Art Association of Montreal, of which J. B. Abbott, Law '74 is secretary.

At Oxford, England, on January 10 a daughter was born to Dr. W. W. Francis, Med. '09, and Mrs. Francis.

Dr. I. J. Yeo, Med. '08, has been elected a member of the city council of Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The ratepayers of Digby, N. S., have elected Dr. Edward DuVernet, Med. '93, as their mayor for 1922.

Dr. Louis J. Hartman, Med. '16, of Alexandria Bay, N.Y., has left for Clifton Springs, N.Y., to receive treatment because of a nervous breakdown. Dr. Hartman's condition is reported as grave. He served overseas with the American forces during the European war.

At Vancouver, B. C., on January 13 a son was born to H. T. Logan, Arts '08, and Mrs. Logan.

STUNTS FOR YEARBOOKS.

If you have a grudge against someone and want to get even, here's your chance. The first thing to do is to get a good kodak then keep it ready until you catch him in a compromising or embarrassing position and take a snap shot of him. This is the prescription given by Leon Hirsch kodak editor of the 1922 yearbook. He'll print the picture when you get it.

Hirsch has some new ideas for the kodak section of this year's Sooner which he hopes will result in a better collection of pictures for this section than similar collections in the past. He will have a representative in each school of the notables in that school in the ludicrous position. From the collections thus obtained Hirsch will select the best ones for the page devoted to each of the various schools. There will also be some pages for pictures of general interest, one of which will be devoted to students who are supporting. Fraternities will be asked to furnish snaps of their members.

Hirsch has already collected some excellent pictures, a few of which he confidentially described to the Daily Mirror, and if he can obtain many more of this standard the kodak section of the 1922 Sooner will have sufficient material to occupy the attention of campus gossip until the next edition.
